School trips 2017

Madurodam tells the great stories of the Netherlands. Find out what makes a small country great – and have fun at the same time!

Step into the shoes of DJ Armin van Buuren and mix your own beats at the DJ table. If you register with us, your beats can be sent to you by e-mail so you can listen to them again. Or if you prefer you can fly like a pilot at Schiphol, or be a strong dock worker and load containers onto a ship in the Rotterdam harbour. And make sure you close the Eastern Scheldt flood barrier quickly before the country disappears under water.

Court of the Netherlands

In 2015 a spectacular new attraction called Hof van Nederland (Court of the Netherlands) opened in Madurodam. This attraction treats you to a multisensory experience that takes you back to the early days of the Dutch nation. Seated at a large table, you can take part in the First Assembly of the Free States in 1572 and experience the excitement of this significant moment in Dutch history. This attraction is inspired by the museum of the same name in Dordrecht.

George's story

To commemorate the hundredth anniversary of the birth of George Maduro, after whom Madurodam was named, a new attraction telling George's story opened in 2016. Visitors are captivated by the story of his life told via a film projected on a five-metre-high, 180-degree panorama screen. This is a moving tale of courage, bravery and perseverance, of tough choices and heroic deeds, and of the value of freedom. This story needs to be told and should not be missed!

Madurodam is good for children

Madurodam, which was founded in 1952 to promote and raise funds for good causes, is good for children. Madurodam donates its annual proceeds of between 600,000 and 1,000,000 euros to children's charities. Madurodam's charity policy focuses primarily on the discovery and development of talent in primary school children.
